

Thousands Killed in Red China To Check Revolution Threat

By FRED HAMPSON
HONG KONG, June 20—(P)—Evidence now indicates the great Communist purge in China has taken at least a million lives and doomed other millions to mines and labor camps.
Who started it and why?
Hidden deep in official and semi-official Red publications in Peiping are some answers:
Dictator Mao Tze-Tung, himself, started it. Why? Because of the Korean war and because of the Communist land reform.

The 15th issue of the Current Affairs Journal, a party magazine, editorially asked "why are the counter-revolutionaries suppressed on such a large scale just now?"
This was its answer, phrased in the usual Communist dialectics: "By the second half of 1950 when, externally, American imperialism launched its aggressive war in Korea and, internally, agrarian reform was being carried out, the sabotage . . . of counter-revolutionists became more rampant . . .

"At this juncture Chairman Mao reminded us all to firmly suppress counter-revolutionary elements and abandon the mistake of magnanimity. Hence cadres (political and government workers) were aroused."
Stripped of Red verbiage, this meant that Mao saw his pet domestic reform was backfiring and the United Nations meant business in Korea, so he decided to clear the deck for trouble by killing his political foes. Most observers feel that he got a few stiff prods from Moscow.

Heretofore most opinion was that the purge more or less started on its own and was later "legalized" by Peiping. It was thought that Mao, if anything, had opposed it.
No observer was surprised that Korea and the land reform touched off the purge, although it was surprising for the Reds to say so (Please turn to Page Five)

Tax Collections Here Slow--Late Rush to Beat Deadline Likely

The situation has not changed much in the last couple of weeks at the office of Fayette County treasurer.
The officer force is still sitting impatiently twiddling its collective thumbs and waiting for property owners to come in and pay their taxes.
Unless something happens to change the picture soon, there is bound to be an awful last-minute rush at the pay window in the Court House or a lot of delinquents.
The books were opened for tax payments May 20 with $178,925 to be collected.
Now with less than 10 days to go, there still remains $117,776 to be paid. The deadline for this tax paying period is June 30.
During the 30 days the books have been open for payments, only $61,159 has come in.
If all taxes are paid before the deadline, money will have to come in at the rate of more than $13,000 a day--and there have been few days like that yet this period.
Penalty for Delinquency
Charles A. Fabb, the treasurer, explained that "the 10 percent penalty is not a means of raising more money for the county . . . it is assessed to impress property owners with the importance of paying their taxes on time."
"The county, with all of its sub-

Iran Orders British Oil Seizure

TEHRAN, Iran, June 26—(P)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh ordered his government to take full authority over Anglo-Iranian oil operations today, and Britain called home its peace mission.
Mossadegh promised to keep oil flowing from nationalized installations of the company, in which the British government holds a controlling interest. He acted after a five-hour cabinet meeting. Deputy Premier Hussein Fatimi said Iran would not carry out threats of extreme Nationalists to "shut the valves" of the Abadan refinery, the world's largest.
Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison conferred with military leaders and said Britain will protect its Nationals in Iran if the government here fails to do so. The British mission orders home consisted of both Anglo-Iranian and government representatives. Its negotiations with the Iranians broke down last night.
In the British House of Commons, Winston Churchill asked if the government had made up its mind whether to evacuate several thousand Britons working for Anglo-Iranian. Morrison declined to say on the ground such a statement would be foolish and risky.
The Iranian cabinet acted after considering an appeal from the United States to restudy the latest British offer of payments. Iran's rejection of that offer brought the breakup of negotiations last night.
A vaguely worded communique indicated the Mossadegh government planned to try to take over the administration of the vast oil fields gradually. It announced Iranian officials had been named to take over "Anglo-Iranian's northernmost oil fields at Kermanshah."
The cabinet meeting, whose length indicated Iranian officials realized the enormity of the task before them, came after British-Iranian talks on a possible settlement broke down last night.
The communique said any orders of the Anglo-Iranian board of directors and its general manager would not be carried out unless countersigned by the temporary board of directors of Iran's National Oil Company.
The next step is now up to AIOC. Iranians apparently expect former AIOC employees and executives to continue to work under the direction of the government's oil company.
A compromise offer from the British of a financial advance, instead of turning over, as the Iranians demanded, virtually all the profits of the company since enactment of the nationalization law in March was rejected by Iran.
B. R. Jackson of the AIOC negotiating team told newsmen the company had offered to pay $28,000,000 now as an advance toward reaching a "workable arrangement" on its future, and $8,400,000 monthly while the talks proceeded. He said this was to be paid with the proviso the Iranians keep their hands off company operations.

Pull-out Comes As War in Air Gathers Speed

Commie Planes Given Beating in Biggest Fight Yet
BY OLEN CLEMENTS
TOKYO, June 20—(P)—Ten Red planes were shot down or damaged today in the Korean War's first double-deck dog-fight.
Both jet and propeller driven planes—98 of them—took part in the fourth consecutive day of air war over northwest Korea.
On the ground North Koreans suddenly abandoned Punchbowl Valley, which they had fought for so viciously. United Nations guns now dominate the former Red buildup area on the eastern front.
Sharp battles flared Wednesday on both sides of the valley—one near Kamsong on the east coast and the other in mountains north of Yanggu.
The double air battle broke out simultaneously between low flying propeller planes and jets swirling above at 13,000 feet.
When it was over the Reds had lost three planes destroyed, one probably destroyed and six damaged.
Twenty-four UN Mustang fighters overpowered a flight of six Russian-built propeller planes. All the Reds were hit. A Yak fighter and two Stormovik attack-bombers were shot down. Another Stormovik was probably destroyed and two were damaged.
Thirty-two American Sabre jets battled 36 Russian-type Mig-15 jets in the top level of the battle. The jet fight began at 13,000 feet and swept down to 6,000.

Midwest Is Lashed By Violent Storms

(By The Associated Press)
Tornadoes and heavy rain hit wide areas over the midwest last night causing heavy damage.
One woman was killed and five persons injured in a tornado that struck eastern Minnesota. Fifty homes were damaged and hundreds of trees toppled as the twister swept over Hutchinson, about 45 miles west of Minneapolis. Unofficial damage was estimated at around $500,000.
The weather bureau also reported a tornado in southwestern Kansas. Heavy rain fell in some midwest areas, with South Bend, Ind., reporting 2.46 inches in six hours.
Showers continued today from the Great Lakes region southwest to Oklahoma and in eastern Montana. Fair weather was reported in other parts of the country.
The hot weather continued in the far southwest and it was warm and humid over the southern half of the country. The mercury soared to 114 at Presidio, Tex., yesterday.

Crack at President Taken by MacArthur In New Statement
WASHINGTON, June 20 —(P)—Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, former ambassador to China, today accused the State Department of surrendering the principles for which World War II was fought.
Hurley also called for an end to what he called a "policy of appeasement". He was testifying before Senate committees investigating the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.
When Hurley took the witness chair, the committee made public a letter from MacArthur contending that President Truman's orders "silencing pertinent witnesses" had denied the inquiry group the "full facts" about his recall from his Pacific commands.
In the letter, MacArthur declined an invitation to return for further testimony before the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees.
MacArthur's reference obviously was to Mr. Truman's stand that Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Secretary of State Acheson should not testify about what was said by individuals at White House conferences on dismissing MacArthur.

TOKYO, June 20—(P)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway today called in all military scrip used by occupation personnel in Japan, Korea and Okinawa.
Japanese police yesterday arrested 22 men and said they had smashed a ring dealing in bogus scrip.

Tax Hike Drive Begun As War Need Outlined

WASHINGTON, June 20 —(P)—The administration opened a drive today to push a record-breaking $7,200,000,000 tax increase through the House by tomorrow night or Friday.
The bill, carrying a 12½ percent increase in individual income taxes together with sharp hikes in corporate rates and excise taxes, will be considered under procedure which bars amendments unless they are offered by the Ways and Means Committee.
The two days of general debate must end by 3 P. M. (EST) on the second day.
The income tax boost would take effect Sept. 1; the corporation tax increase would be retroactive to last Jan. 1; and the new excise levies would become effective a few weeks after the bill became law.
Before the bill could be called on in the House, however, two-thirds of the members present must sanction waiving of the rule which sets aside today as "Calendar Wednesday". On such specified occasions, committee chairmen are privileged to call up legislation pending on the House docket.
Military Needs
Secretary of Defense Marshall asked Congress today to approve as quickly as possible a vast $6,561,262,000 military building program he said is "dictated by the current international tension."
The defense department said "in the near future" it will ask Congress to appropriate $4,500,000,000 to start the program and hoped for within two years. The money will be sought for the fiscal year which starts July 1.
Marshall outlined the program in letters to House Speaker Rayburn and to Senator Russell (D-Ga.) and Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.).
Billions for Bases
The defense department asked for $6,561,262,387 for construction of army, navy, air force and marine installations in the United States and overseas.
The total includes $4,222,374,907 for projects in the continental United States.
The proposed construction in the United States includes these projects:
Ohio—$107,583,033 including:
Army—Columbus general depot, $600,000; Erie ordnance depot, $6,283,900; Lima ordnance depot, $432,600; Marion engineer depot, $3,483,000; Ravenna arsenal, $425,000; Rossford ordnance depot, $10,379,533.
Air force—Lockbourne AFB, $18,094,000; Youngstown municipal airport, $6,206,000; Dayton depot, $13,006,000; Shelby depot, $13,237,000; Wright-Patterson AFB, $35,436,000.

Clock Covered By Legislature's Final Session

BY REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, June 20—(P)—Ohio's Legislature approved more money for schools, a bill to check stream pollution and overrode another executive veto before final adjournment early today.
Sixteen of Gov. Frank J. Lausche's 18 vetoes this session stuck. Passed over his veto was a $3,103,000 appropriation to reimburse local governments for 1949-50 poor relief bills the state failed to match. The other veto, over-ridden May 8, changed the name of state college at Wilberforce to Central State College. That left a net of 242 bills enacted this session.
But the Legislature adopted a Senate-House resolution directing the Ohio Program Commission to investigate the Highway Department and the Industrial Commission. The resolution seeks to carry out the same inquiries ordered in bills the governor vetoed. He can not veto the resolution.

21 Reds Nabbed In FBI Roundup

Quick Indictments Returned by Jury
WASHINGTON, June 20—(P)—Twenty-one members of the Communist party's secondary command were indicted today on charges of plotting violent overthrow of the United States government.
A sudden early-morning roundup by the FBI netted 16 party officials in New York and one in Pittsburgh. Four were still being sought.
The government moved against the lesser lights in the wake of this month's supreme court decision upholding the conviction of the party's 11 top leaders.
Attorney General McGrath and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in a statement:
"Some of the individuals arrested are members of the Alternate National Committee, recently formed by the Communist party to serve as the top policy making body in the absence of the present National Committee members, now convicted."
The 11 leaders were convicted in New York in 1949 of conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.
Although the supreme court upheld the conviction two weeks ago, a legal battle for a rehearing is still on.
Each of those seized today was described by Hoover as "a prominent, active functionary of the Communist party, U. S. A." Hoover added:
"All have been in party work for many years, and hold ranking positions in the party apparatus. They represent officials both of the National and New York state Communist party."

Accused of Plotting

All of those taken into custody were charged under the 1940 Smith act. The supreme court upheld the constitutionality of this law, providing punishment for violent plotting, when it affirmed the convictions of the top 11. That group received prison sentences ranging up to five years and each was fined $10,000.

Newspaper Editor Takes Pictures to Ohioan in Korea

TOKYO, June 20 — (P) — A newspaper editor travelled 10,000 miles to present Sgt. Joe (Poppa) Finch of Toledo, Ohio, an album of pictures of Mrs. Finch and their new born son, Paul Michael.
The album was taken to Korea by Michael Bradshaw, editor of the Toledo Blade.
Finch saw a picture of his son and exclaimed:
"He has a nose like mine!"
Finch had sent a money order to the Blade to buy a present for his wife when the child was born.
The Blade in turn sent the sergeant a $50 war bond.
Bradshaw assigned photographers to compile a picture album of mother and son. Then he flew to Korea to present the album.

Band of Nomads Kept on Move

Gypsies Not Allowed To Stop Here

Late Tuesday Sheriff Orland Hays received a call from the sheriff of Madison County that eight car loads of gypsies were enroute toward this county under escort of Madison County deputy sheriffs.

Sheriff Hays met them in Se-dalia, and brought them across Fayette County, halting in Bloom-ingburg for gas, then to this city, where Chief Valden Long assisted in getting them through town without stopping.

The sheriff then accompanied them to the Ross County line and notified the sheriff of Ross County, who sent deputies to pick up the band and keep an eye on them until they were out of that county.

The present rovers were New Mexico Indians, who said they were headed south. The officers kept an eye on them to insure they kept in the right direction.

The band had entered a farm in Madison County and intended staying there overnight, but were ordered off by the farm owner.

Gypsies, who used to find most of this state easy picking, now find they are not wanted and usually have an escort of officers from county to county to insure them being kept on the move.

Years ago these nomads robbed citizens in surprisingly large numbers. Some of them stole everything they could get their hands on.

Usually they eluded officers and were in adjoining counties before the robberies came to light.

Associate members under 10 who were present at the meeting were: Sharon Cline, Helen Kruger, Iris Newell, Lillian Long and Karen Carmen.

Plans were discussed for a wiener roast, to be held sometime in the future.

The next meeting will be an all-day affair June 26 at the home of the advisor, Mrs. Marie Fennor.

School Aid Program

The school bill sailed through both houses after an agreement on a $25,000,000 increase to give schools $207,000,000 for the next two years. They got $182,000,000 for the current biennium. The measure carried an extra $2,000,000 appropriation in addition to the $750,000,000 budget to run the state for two years. The rest of the school money is in the budget.

The school bill sets minimum starting pay for teachers ranging from $2,000 to $2,600 a year depending on education and training. It requires automatic raises of $100 a year for five years for teachers with bachelor's degree or less; $110 for those with five years training and $120 for those with master's degrees.

The measure also increases the school foundation program. The program is the standard set by the state for pupil education. The present law guarantees qualifying schools $101.75 for each elementary pupil and $122 for those in high school. The new law boosts that to $125 for elementary and $150 for high school pupils.

The anti-pollution bill contains changes embodied in the model law of the federal security agency. It permits Ohio to discharge its obligations under the eight-state Ohio River sanitation compact, sponsors said.

The measure creates a five-member board in the State Health Department with broad powers to control dumping of sewage and industrial wastes into streams. It would enforce its authority through common pleas courts. Violations are punishable by a $500 fine and a year in jail with each day after conviction a separate offense.

The anti-pollution and school bills now go to Governor Lausche for signing into law. Or he can let them become law without his signature. A veto would stick because the Legislature is through and can not consider his disapproval.

A House-passed Fair Employment Practices (FEPC) bill failed to get enough votes in the Senate for consideration. A motion to revive the measure, left over from the regular working session, failed on a 13-13 vote. The proposal sought to prevent employment discrimination because of race, creed or color.

The Senate adopted a favored legislative method in killing off vetoed bills. Members voted to postpone consideration of them indefinitely.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, June 20.—(P)—Firm trend in wheat provided the only solid spot in a sagging grain market on the Board of Trade today.

The bread cereal seemed to have recovered from its sharp shaking out of the previous session.

The rest of the market generally lost ground, corn and soybeans showing the weakest trend. Oats fluctuated within a narrow range around previous closing levels most of the day.

Financial Market

NEW YORK, June 20.—(P)—The stock market felt its way cautiously along an erratic path today. Losses and gains were pretty well mixed and in most cases amounted to only a few cents.

The lack of activity attested to the caution with which traders acted as they kept a weather eye on the deteriorating Iranian situation and congressional maneuvering on controls. Oil stocks were among the stronger and more active issues.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, June 20—(P)—A hardy little band of senators, armed with good intentions, set out today to explore a strange and shadowy land called "ethics in government."

It's a land where, behind the scenes, there are booby traps like cocktail parties; some of the natives shouldn't but do accept favors for favors granted; threats are made; and the law can be bent without breaking.

The senators are looking for a special kind of medicine -- ethical standards, they call it -- which can be used to strengthen the moral backbone of those who work for the government or do business with it.

This unusual journey began in the head of Senator Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, some months ago when he was digging into the doings of the RFC, The Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

On March 27 he got up on the Senate floor, making a speech and a suggestion: "in making this suggestion I am quite prepared to be dubbed naive. It will not be the first time . . . to expect or even hope for an improvement in the moral climate of Washington is, in the eyes of the boys who know, I am sure, thoroughly utopian."

He suggested Congress create a commission of prominent citizens to study and make recommendations -- a code of ethics -- for improvement in the moral standards of members of Congress, those who work in government departments, and people doing business with Congress or the departments.

Congress, which has never shown enthusiasm for outside suggestions on how to improve itself, received with something less than cheers the Fulbright suggestion that a commission of outsiders could prescribe a moral code for Congress.

But the idea landed in the lap of the Senate's labor committee which then told a subcommittee--headed by Senator Douglas, Illinois Democrat -- to look into the suggestion. Today Douglas' little group started to work.

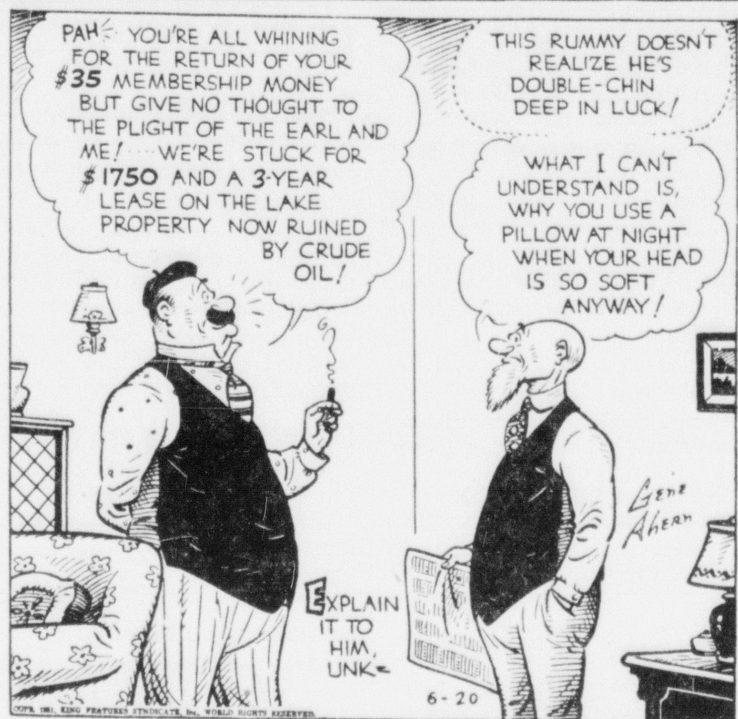

For about 15 days it will listen to the views of 20 or 25 prominent men on whether they think there's truly a need for such a commission and code of conduct. Then it will be up to the subcommittee to decide whether it thinks the idea is good.

But even if the subcommittee approves, the commission can't be set up unless the full labor committee and then both Houses of Congress approved. So creation of the commission, if it ever is created, is still quite a distance away. In the end Congress may say "uh, huh," and forget the whole thing.

Douglas, though, is in full sympathy with Fulbright's thinking on this. In the end, any code of ethics or moral conduct, recommended by the commission and adopted by Congress, would hardly be law in the sense that it carried criminal penalties for violation. Without penalties, what effect could it have?

Board and Room

By Gene Ahern

Douglas thinks the effect would be good; it would set up standards by which legislators, government officials, and those dealing with the government would know what was expected of them. And they would be standards by which the public could judge all three groups.

There is a code of ethics surrounding court judges. The parties in a case are supposed never to discuss it with the judge outside of court and he's expected to decide a case on the evidence, not on friendship or favors. He's not supposed to accept favors from people involved in a case before him.

There's no such code in government dealings.

Sewage Charges Due City Auditor Says

Marie Melvin, city auditor, said June 30 is the deadline for paying quarterly sewage charges to her office, and that unless payments are made delinquent charges will be certified over to the county auditor for collection.

She said a 10 percent penalty will be added to the charges, and the charges along with the penalty to taxes. Certification of the delinquents will be made July 1.

Miss Melvin said there were a few hundred property owners or renters who had failed to pay the charges made by the city for disposing of residents' sewage.

Discussion of Steel Making at Rotary Meet

Metallurgist in Industry Provides Interesting Data

"The Steel Industry and You" was the subject of a very interesting address before Rotarians and guests Tuesday noon with Ralph R. Leo, of Cleveland, a metallurgist with the American Steel and Wire Company, the speaker.

Leo was secured for the program by Willard and Billie Wilson. Others from the company who also were guests of the Wilsons for this meeting were A. L. Krieg, Cleveland, public relations representative, and Paul Lindsey and Joseph McDermott of the company's Cincinnati district office.

The speaker after being introduced by George Finley, June program chairman, told many interesting points about steel production and called attention to the vast number of articles made from this product.

In some detail he explained the necessary preparation of materials and processes in making steel. He also brought with him a number of small steel products as exhibits, giving his audience some interesting data on how they are made.

Leo particularly stressed the point that "no matter who you are or what you do steel products in some form is a close part of your home life." He also referred to the importance of steel in the automobile industry and talked of the many parts of the average motor car which must depend upon steel.

Following the close of his address a number of his hearers asked questions which he answered.

Previous to the main program Dr. Limes was introduced as the club member with a birthday within a week. He received the usual greetings.

Man-Power Policy Shows a Lot of Waste

Using many of the nation's best and most physically fit and mentally alert jobs which anyone could fill in army service and discrimination in exemptions are beginning to stir up a lot of people.

It seems that in half a century the army still insists on pursuing its same old policies. Good men are "wasted" where they are not needed while the call goes on for more and more men either by enlistment or by draft and exemptions and soft job commissions are free and easy.

Unless a boy entering the army is looking for a "soft spot" which many are not, he resents some of the kind of jobs to which he is assigned in many cases, where he knows his ability is wasted.

One Washington C. H. mother said this week "I know my two sons did not enter the army to drive some general or his family around, nor to do kitchen duty. They both wanted to get into the 'thick' of things."

Recently a sub-committee of the U. S. Senate which has been checking into military operations reported that in an investigation of some sixteen training areas, it discovered enough able-bodied, alert young men to handle five full military divisions working at jobs which could be performed by 4-Z's, not to mention 4-F's.

Some of these jobs included such activities as desk clerk operations, kitchen duties, driving automobiles, working moving picture machines, running camp Post Exchanges, acting as messenger boys.

When young men drafted into active service read of baseball players earning substantial salaries, running the bases like demons, drawing down sports writers' "rave" notices, yet are exempt from military service, they must wonder at the spectacle. Certainly, college and professional athletes, whose disabilities are visible only under high-powered microscopes, could be doing these jobs without any serious aggravation of their unpublicized ailments.

If there is any one source of irritation to American young people, it is the evidence of discrimination in selective service. Until it is eliminated, many of them will enter military service reluctantly and with a sense of indignation which is too often well merited.

Turn Deaf Ear

As usual, spokesmen for the administration are protesting vehemently every time congressional committees make cuts in the proposed budget. Some top officials squeal like stuck pigs at the most modest reductions in appropriation requests which were watered to the saturation point to begin with.

This is to be expected—nothing hurts a bureaucrat so much as to have his share of the take from the taxpayers shaved. But Congress will do the country the greatest possible service if it turns deaf ears to the "politics as usual" crowd and cuts this budget and all future budgets to the irreducible minimum.

How To Keep Up with the Joneses

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK. —(AP)—Once upon a time a man named Smith, a man named Brown and a man named Johnson came to call on one of their neighbors—a fellow named Jones.

They found him clad in a silk dressing gown and lying on a $750 sofa in his luxurious living room. Jones was idly flicking cigar ashes on the sofa as he talked over the phone to his bookie:

"Put $25 for me on Silver Hoof in the sixth tomorrow."

"Have your wife take in Washington," pleaded Smith. "Any little gesture like that would help."

"Never," said Jones. "I'm a born Jones."

"Have your wife take in Washington," pleaded Smith. "Any little gesture like that would help."

"You are!" Chorused Smith, Brown and Johnson.

"How come?" said Jones, surprised.

Smith, Brown and Johnson explained. They said his family was living too high for such a modest neighborhood. They said their own families now wanted to live that way, too, and it was keeping them broke to try to keep up with the Joneses.

"Oh, that's just an old saying, boys," said Jones, tolerantly. "It doesn't mean a thing."

"It does around my house," said Smith. "Whatever your wife gets, my wife wants."

"Keeping up with the Joneses has made me a prisoner of the installment plan," moaned Brown.

"Why did you have to show off by buying a 46-inch screen television set?" demanded Johnson.

"Now my daughter won't even look at our old shabby 21-inch set. She says the screen is so small it hurts her eyes."

Jones looked complacent.

"It is a matter of pride with the Joneses everywhere to live life to the hilt," he said. "Family pride. What do you expect me to do about it anyway, boys?"

"Change your name," said Smith.

"Never," said Jones. "I'm a born Jones."

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Recently a new and beneficent use has been found for curare, a drug originally noted only for its lethal effects.

First brought to the attention of civilized men as the poison with which South American Indians tipped their arrows, curare has been the subject of many medical studies. These disclosed useful effects, but for many years they remained highly unpredictable and were accompanied by so many harmful reactions as to make curare a doubtful remedy. Now, however, that we have found ways of refining and purifying it, it is coming into its full field of usefulness.

Promotes Relaxation

This is chiefly gained from the fact that it promotes relaxation of the muscles. Muscle spasm plays a role in many conditions and is well known as the main cause of pain following severe injury. Even though treatment of the injury itself progresses rapidly, it is often necessary to give large and repeated doses of narcotics to relieve the pain. Curare gives a better way of accomplishing the same end by relaxing the muscles.

For this purpose, curare is mixed with peanut oil and white wax to slow its absorption by the body, thus giving it a long-lasting effect when it is injected into a muscle.

A series of ten patients with painful muscle spasm, due to injury, were treated with curare. All suffered from intense pain, some to the point where it was impossible for them to remain quiet. Each was given twenty-four consecutive injections of this long-acting curare preparation, with dramatic results. In all cases, the drug was sufficiently well absorbed to relieve muscle spasm and the accompanying pain within 45 minutes. This relief was maintained for periods of from 12 to 24 hours following one injection. No codeine, morphine, or any other narcotic or sedative was used. Nevertheless, relief was adequate in all cases.

Tetanus or Lockjaw

Curare has also been used in the treatment of tetanus or lockjaw. The powerful convulsions

New Use for Curare

in Relaxing Spasms

and muscle spasms of this dread disease have been controlled for from 18 to 20 hours or even longer with a single injection of the drug. Patients so treated obtained relief of pain, increased strength. The effect of one injection may last up to 120 hours in some cases.

Recently, too, the same drug has been tried in the treatment of periarthritis of the shoulder, in which there are extensive adhesions around the shoulder joint. Curare is also being used to relieve the spasm in many cases of multiple sclerosis.

Thus does modern medical science tame a killer and set it to work.

City Clamps Down On Dope Peddling

YOUNGSTOWN, June 20.—(AP)—The police department today had a stout weapon to aid in the fight against dope traffic. It is a new ordinance, enacted by city council, providing a maximum fine of $500 or six months in jail, or both, merely for illegal possession of hypodermic needles.

City police asked for a new law because under state law, the dope itself must be seized.

The U. S. army reached its greatest size of 8,266,373 men and women including 835,403 officers in 1945.

Dope Problem Facing Americans

By George Sokolsky

Parents in New York are jittery over the narcotics investigation because each one naturally wonders what is happening within his own household. Some progressives can be very broad minded about sexual disturbances and irregularities in households other than their own: no one can take dope lightly.

The investigation shows an undetermined but widespread use of marijuana, cocaine and heroin by school children.

by the main market place being the school itself or a candy store near the school. Only a clue to the traffic has been provided thus far, the youthful salesman ex-

Sokolsky posing himself but not the adult who is developing a market for himself by getting them young and making them dependent. Giving the dope away for free, the peddler charges progressively more and more so the addict has to steal and in the case of teen-age girls to resort to prostitution, to get the money to pay.

It is a filthy, sordid story of the breakdown of law enforcement in New York, it has beyond doubt been aggravated by the mass importation of Puerto Ricans by Fiorello La Guardia and Vito Marcantonio for political purposes. They were brought into this country by airplane and packed into the Harlem ghetto where they live in unbelievable squalor and poverty. Many of them turn to marginal businesses because they are unprepared for and unadjusted to the normal earning habits of Americans. While legally citizens of this country, they have no traditions or habits that are American. They suffer from racial discrimination, being accepted neither by the whites nor the Negroes: both refer to them contemptuously as spiks.

Nothing is done for these unfortunate people. They are exploited by politicians to get their vote, but no efforts are being made to improve their condition except by a store-front church organization known as the East Harlem Protestant parish. While it might be expected that these Puerto Ricans are Roman Catholics, actually religion with them is largely ritualistic and superstitious where it exists at all. The family system is extremely weak. Nothing substantial is being done for their Americanization, compared, for instance, to the wonderful work done on the east side of New York in my boyhood.

In this atmosphere, dope peddling and dope-using flourishes and spreads over the city. It is becoming our principal social disease.

Some blame the school system for failing to discover dope addicts and narcotics salesmen among the children. Even assuming that teachers could identify the user of narcotics and do something about it, it would seem that to put this police work on the already burdened lives of teachers is asking for too much. Classes here in New York are huge: the teachers find disciplining older students, by moral suasion, very difficult.

Compulsory education keeps children in school until they are 18, which, in many instances, is far too long for the students' capacity to learn. Boys growing sharp mustaches and girls with an eye to a petting date are not always amenable to discipline by a school teacher.

There are schools in New York which, at times, have required police protection for the teachers. The teachers cannot undertake to watch wash rooms, boiler rooms and roofs.

The real trouble is the breakdown of the family. Neither the police nor the schools can do much in combating social evils without the cooperation of parents, particularly among children whose parents have so lost control of the family that it has practically ceased to exist as a social unit.

Furthermore, strictly secular, a-moral education, for children without parental restraints, does nothing to build character. No matter what progressive educators say about the social value of self-expression in a democracy, children who grow up like alley-cats, without moral restraints and inhibitions, will not resist the temptations of their environment. Those restraints and inhibitions must be developed in the home.

I have a personal familiarity with similar conditions which existed among the Jewish immigrants on the east side of New York. They came in large numbers and crowded into the east side. They also were without American traditions and habits. But their religious and family life was not only beautiful but intense. One hears of the very few gangsters that came out of that area but rarely of the hundreds of thousands of men and women who created for themselves fine and useful lives in this country. It was religious consciousness, centered about the family, which saved these personalities from the disintegrating influences of a transition from one culture to another.

Kid Softball Leagues Now All Set for Action In Recreation Program

A full round of softball is in store for kids in Washington C. H. following the start of two new softball leagues here this week.

Youths from two age groups, from 13 through 15 years and from 9 through 12 years, have formed a total of eight teams and settled down to a regular schedule of softball which will last throughout the summer.

Big plans have been made for youths who show a lively interest in the games through the efforts of the city recreation department.

The youngsters who show the most promise will be chosen on an all-star team which will play an out-of-town team at the end of the season. Since there is a full season ahead of them, the softballers will have plenty of time to show improvement and win a berth on the all-star outfit.

There will be recognition for those who simply show up regularly for the games and practice sessions, Ron Guinn and Harry Townsend, co-directors of the recreation program, have made plans to take youths with good participation records to a Red Bird baseball game at the end of the season.

Guinn said the basis for selection will probably be a record of 85 percent attendance. Games will be played at Wilson Field.

Youths in the 13 through 15 age group, will begin play at 1:30 o'clock each afternoon while those kids between 9 and 12 years of age will compete beginning at 2:30 o'clock each afternoon, Monday through Friday.

Games will be played on a round robin basis.

SMALLER YOUTHS, those who are unable to go to Wilson Field or those who want to play at Wilson Field during the afternoon and someplace else during the morning, won't be forgotten by the recreation department either.

A morning schedule for once-a-week play at 10 A. M. has been set up in five playground areas. Joe Rush will be on hand at each of the areas during the morning sessions.

Rush will be at the play areas at 10 A. M. on the days listed: Rose Avenue, Monday; Eastside, Tuesday; Baker's Addition, Wednesday; Gardner Park, Thursday and Lewis Street, Friday.

While at the playgrounds, Rush will help with organizing softball teams and assist in conducting other games.

There are supervisors both at Eastside, Rose Avenue and Gardner Park during the morning. At Rose Avenue and Gardner Park there is supervision in the afternoon too.

Guinn and Townsend, while urging the small tots to come out for playground activity, are also asking the older folks to turn out for such things as tennis, croquet, badminton volleyball and shuffleboard.

Maj. Robert Peters Ends Army Course

Major Robert E. Peters of 229 1-2 Delaware Street is one of six Ohio army reserve officers who completed a recent course in training at Fort Meade, Md.

The course is the equivalent to graduation from the Army's Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Officers are on temporary duty during the two-week period of the course.

Guinn said the basis for selection will probably be a record of 85 percent attendance. Games will be played at Wilson Field.

Youths in the 13 through 15 age group, will begin play at 1:30 o'clock each afternoon while those kids between 9 and 12 years of age will compete beginning at 2:30 o'clock each afternoon, Monday through Friday.

Daniel Wilkin Gets Promotion

Former Resident Is With Armco Corp.

Daniel S. Wilkin, formerly of Washington C. H. and who left this city for Hillsboro in 1929, has been appointed director of personnel of the Reserve Mining Company.

This announcement was made this week by R. P. Adair, director of personnel relations, Armco Steel Corporation, with headquarters in Middletown.

The Reserve Mining Company is owned by Armco and Republic Steel Corporation and National Peters and 30 other reserve officers from the Second Army area completed phase two of the associate course in command and general staff functions.

The course is divided into three phases of two weeks each, with about a year's interval between them.

A minimum of seven years commissioned service, including reserve and National Guard, with high efficiency ratings are necessary for admittance to the course.

The school was started owing to the major problem which developed at the start of World War II—a critical shortage of officers capable of working at division staff level.

Steel Corporation. It is developing a process to extract iron minerals from taconite rock. The company is building a plant for this purpose and a complete town to house employees near Babbitt, Minn.

Succeeding Wilkin, who has been employment advisor at Armco, will be Rowan F. Crawford.

Wilkin joined Armco in 1933, and spent approximately eight years in the open hearth department of the Middletown division. He was transferred to the personnel relations department as an interviewer in 1941.

Four years later he joined the personnel relations staff in the general offices to become employment advisor.

He will take up his new duties July 9, at the headquarters of Reserve Mining Company, which, for the present, are located in Cleveland.

Opera for Everybody Offered in Florida

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Now it's opera tickets on the installment plan. Arturo di Filippi, director of the Miami Opera Guild, has come up with what he calls the accumulative membership plan of the Opera Guild of Greater Miami.

Under the plan, those who've found it difficult to pay out $12.50 for two pairs of opera tickets in publicly. Korea has aggravated every problem in China. Land reforms have been resisted in every province.

Another phase of the purge is the matter of more public participation in them. The People's Daily, official Communist paper, discusses it and urges that the public at large take part in mass denunciation meetings.

One explanation offered in Hong Kong is that the Reds want to make so many people responsible for the mass purges that ultimate punishment for its perpetrators would be out of the question.

The Reds appear to be succeeding in their efforts to break down natural reluctance of the average person against tattling on his fellow. Here are a few examples, gleaned from Red propaganda releases:

Some messenger boys in Canton at a mass denunciation meeting got carried away and denounced two other boys whom they accused of not sharing tips. The boys were hauled in for mass trial on charges of reactionarism, exploiting the masses and spreading rumors. Presumably they have been shot.

In Tientsin some school girls at a mass denunciation told of hearing two men on a street corner complain of taxes and other government actions and say something about murder. The men were arrested, tried and executed as counter-revolutionaries.

In Shanghai, a former Nationalist government worker, fearing he had been accused, hid in an old warehouse. His wife was induced to betray his hiding place. He was captured and executed.

In Canton the Reds recruited "12-man eavesdropping teams" from the public at large. Thirty people were arrested in a tea room as the result of the big ears of one eavesdropping team.

Accusations still can be made secretly, but the Reds say it is more "patriotic" to make them in public. That doesn't seem to be the whole reason. There have been hints that secret accusers have anonymously accused Communists to other Communists. A notable number of smaller ranking party officials have been liquidated.

The People's Daily scoffed at fears that mass denunciations may result in punishment of innocent people. It declared "these kind of scruples may be well meant, but they are certainly superfluous."

The Current Affairs Journal advocates execution, jail or concentration camps for all counter-revolutionaries. It would up its examination of the purge with a final question:

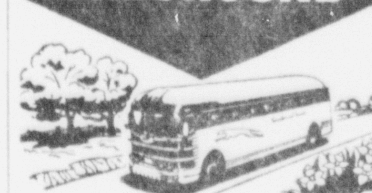

"When will all the criminals be eliminated and the purge ended?"

The question was more clear than the Journal's reply. It said purging could stop only when all criminals come forth, confess, take their punishment, work for the greater glory of the People's (Red) Government and sin no more.

Rally by Reds One Run Short

Amazing Chisox
Split with Yankees

By JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)

The Brooklyn Dodgers survived a ninth inning uprising last night to whip the Reds 5-4 at Cincinnati.

The Brooks started to work on Willard Ramsdell without hesitation. Carl Furillo and Peeewe Reese, the first two men to face him, lined singles.

Duke Snider slammed into a double-play, but a run scored. Then Willie walked Jackie Robinson and hit Andy Patko in the back to fill the bases Ramsdell uncorked another bad pitch, this time hitting Roy Campanella, and a second run was forced in.

The knuckleballer began the fourth by surrendering a single to Rocky Bridges. Don Newcombe bounced and Carl Furillo drove deep to right field. Reese's single scored Bridges. Reese swiped second, Snider walked and Robinson hit safely to bring home Peeewe with the fourth run.

The Dodgers picked up what proved to be the winning run in the sixth on a single, passed ball and single.

The Reds tried valiantly in the bottom of the ninth and succeeded in getting Don Newcombe off the mound, although he gained credit for his eighth victory.

Ted Kluszewski led off with a double and Grady Hatton followed with a base on balls. Lloyd Merriam then sent the ball over the left field fence. Stallcup whiffed, but Johnny Pramesa homered over the leftfield barrier to cut the margin to 5-4. Connie Ryan, batting for Frank Smith, was called out on strikes and Bob Adams sent 26,618 fans home by ground-ing out.

THOSE BATTLING Chicago White Sox are making believers of their opponents—team by team, manager by manager.

Now it's New York and Manager Casey Stengel singing the praises of the spectacular Sox. "Maybe we've been worrying about the wrong fellows," muttered Stengel after Chicago had clawed its way back to a 5-4 victory in the second game of a vital doubleheader yesterday with the Yankees. The Bombers won the opened, 11-9, and appeared on the way to a sweep of the twin bill. They led, 3-1, after seven innings of the nightcap.

So instead of slicing two games off the White Sox' first place lead, the Yankees wound up just where they started—trailing by three and a half games.

The jam-packed throng of 60,441, eager for a good look at pilot Paul Richards' Rockets, agreed with Stengel.

Not many in the vast crowd, gave Chicago much of a chance as the Sox came to bat against Vic Raschi in the eighth, trailing 3-1. But pinch hitter Floyd Baker slapped a single to center. Nelson Fox lined one to right and Eddie Stewart hammered a home run into the right field stands. Without an out being made, the Sox had forged in front, 4-3.

But the Yanks hadn't given up either. Singles by Phil Rizzuto, Gene Woodling and pinch hitter Johnny Mize in their half of the eighth tied the count against Randy Gumpert, who had replaced starter Joe Dobson.

Again the Sox went to work. Jim Busby singled in the ninth, and raced to third on a one-bagger by Phil Masi. Allie Reynolds replaced Raschi and yielded a two-bagger to pinch hitter Bob Dillinger. That scored Busby with the winning run.

BOSTON'S THIRD place Red Sox advanced to within five games of the top as Chuck Stobbs limited the Cleveland Indians to four hits and beat them, 9-2.

Homers by Eddie Joost and Gus Zernial helped the Philadelphia Athletics trip the Detroit Tigers, 9-5.

The St. Louis Browns combined seven safeties and five Washington errors for enough runs to whip the Senators 4-1.

New York's Giants remained five and a half games behind, eking out a 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in a game limited to eight innings by rain. Hank Thompson drove in both New York runs.

Willie Jones hit his 12th and 13th homers, one with the bases loaded to lead the Philadelphia

Assistant WHS Coach Is Named by Board to Take Ron Guinn's Place

Charles C. Koons, 32, was the man selected to coach the Washington C. H. High School Lion Reserve basketball team and to assist Fred Pierson, head football coach, during a special meeting of the school board Tuesday evening.

A dozen applications were received for the position and, according to members of the board, it was a tough decision to make.

Charles C. Koons

Koons, who attended West High School in Columbus, played three years on the football, basketball and baseball teams there.

Besides these three sports in high school he has been head football coach, head track coach and assistant basketball coach at the Springfield Township High School in Petersburg for the past two years. Petersburg is located in Mahoning County near the Pennsylvania line.

Koons was graduated from Ohio State in 1949 with a BS degree in education with emphasis on sports.

Besides his coaching, Koons will teach science and health and physical education.

He is married and has three children and, like everyone else who has just moved into a new town, he is hunting a house. He expressed a desire to move here as soon as possible. At the present time he is working as a salesman in Petersburg.

Community work is another of Koons' interests. He has a good tenor voice and sang in his church choir. And he has also taken an active interest in Scouting.

During the second World War, Koons was in the Coast Guard for over two years.

Reds and Browns Lead Kid League

The Reds and the Browns today were off to a good start in the Kid League, which is a part of the city recreation program for boys from 13 to 15 years old.

The Reds edged the Yankees in the opening game, 8 to 6 in the league opener and the Browns swamped the Cardinals, 13 to 2, in the second game.

There was plenty of solid hitting and some good pitching in both games.

Two College Boys Signed to Indians

The 22-year-old infielder chose the Indians after workout out with four major league teams, including the New York Yankees, Brooklyn Dodgers and Philadelphia Phillies.

The Indians also announced that Bob Borchering, who pitched and played outfield for the University of Cincinnati, has been signed to a contract.

Everyone Irked About Regatta

Ohio River Current
Crux of Troubles

MARIETTA, June 20 —(AP)—Last Saturday's mixed-up collegiate regatta irked not only crewmen and spectators, but local racing authorities as well, it became apparent yesterday.

Marietta's rowing committee and its chamber of commerce issued a joint statement which said, in part:

"We lament the approximate three mile current which was present June 16, but we are not in agreement with the intercollegiate rowing association's decision to shorten the race. x x x"

Also, the statement declared, local crew officials disagreed with giving "persons unfamiliar with the Ohio River course authority to make these decisions."

In any future regatta here, it added, Marietta people who know river conditions "must and will play important roles" in running the races.

Observers believe, however, that the quiet Ohio town has little chance of getting next year's regatta. This was the second year in a row the race length was cut, and starting times delayed.

WCH Horse Wins Feature In New York

WESTBURY, N. Y., June 20 —(AP)—Linda B., owned by Bel Aire Farm, of Washington C. H., Ohio, and driven by Jack Casey, won the featured Arizona pace of the grand circuit meeting last night at Roosevelt Raceway.

Linda B. was timed in 2:05 2-5 as she beat Private George by a length with Gallonite third.

The victory was Linda B.'s second in three starts this season at Westbury. The seven-year-old brown mare rewarded her backers with a $8.70, $4.20 and $3.20 payoff.

Nine candidates for the rich Hambletonian in August at Goshen, N. Y., are scheduled to start tonight in the $10,000 Westbury trot.

The grand circuit meeting feature brings together such speedy three-year-old trotters as Scotch Rhythm, stake winner at Toledo and Roosevelt from Leo McNamara's Two Gait Farms; The Milky Way Stable's Mahlon Hanover; W. N. Reynolds' Betsy Volo and Ralph H. Kroening's Mainliner.

VFW Wins Game Before Rain Comes

A game that had all the earmarks of being one of the best of the season to date in the Recreation League at Wilson Field was halted by rain in the middle of the sixth inning when the VFW was leading the Welders, 3 to 2.

And, that's the way it went down in the league record books -- a VFW victory.

The Welders just barely avoided a shut out when they put across their only two tallies in the last half of the fifth.

Strawser, on the mound for the VFW, had the Welders handcuffed at the plate and held them to one lonesome hit and fanned 11.

Adams, pitching for the Welders did not do a bad job either. Besides getting the only hit off Strawser, he gave up only five safeties to the Veterans.

Southworth Resigns; Holmes His Successor

CHICAGO, June 20 —(AP)—Tommy Holmes, lacking even half a season of minor league managerial seasoning, today took the helm of the Boston Braves abandoned by a four-time national league pennant winner nearly twice his age.

The 33-year-old Holmes, former Braves' batting hero, was due to arrive in Chicago today. He was to direct Boston against the Chicago Cubs in the third game of a four game series, only a few hours after resigning his reported $50,000-a-year job yesterday. Southworth, 58, had a five-year contract which extended through 1952.

General Manager John Quinn said the Braves reluctantly accepted the resignation of Southworth, who last Sunday told owner Lou Perini and Quinn he felt "some one else could do a better job."

Billy won three straight pennants for the St. Louis Cardinals from 1942 through 1944 and in 1948 gave the Braves their first bunting in 34 years.

FLOOD OF PREDICTIONS
BOSTON, June 20 —(AP)—Billy Southworth's resignation as the Boston Braves' manager today unleashed a flood of predictions that he would be back in the national league next season piloting the now last-place Pittsburgh Pirates.

Southworth's intimates hereabouts realize his close friendship with Branch Rickey, the pirates' general manager. It began back in 1926 when they joined forces, Southworth as a St. Louis Cardinal outfielder.

Tuesday's Stars
Batting—Willie Jones, Phillies—slammed two home runs, one with the bases loaded and drove in six runs to lead Phillies to a 9-2 victory over the Pirates.
